Product: DialTone.Menu | AI-Powered Phone Ordering for Restaurants

Stage: Pre-Launch | Market: Nashville, TN

Version: 1.0 | April 2026

Prepared by: DialTone / ByteStreams

BRAND OVERVIEW

What is DialTone.Menu?

DialTone.Menu is an AI-powered phone ordering assistant built for independent and small-chain restaurants. It answers every call, takes every order, and reads back the total -- no app, tablet, or extra staff required.

Designed for restaurants that are busy enough to miss calls during peak hours and losing revenue to voicemail, DialTone.Menu works with existing phone numbers and requires no new equipment. Setup takes less than a day.

BRAND MISSION

Every missed call is a missed sale. DialTone.Menu ensures no restaurant loses revenue to voicemail -- ever. We turn every phone ring into a completed order.

"Your Phone Just Got a Full-Time Employee."

Voice & Tone

DialTone.Menu speaks with confidence, clarity, and warmth. The brand voice positions the product as a reliable, always-on team member -- not a cold piece of technology. Copy should feel like a trusted colleague explaining a no-brainer solution.

Confident

We know we solve a real problem. No hedging or apology language.

Clear

Short sentences. No jargon. Restaurant owners should instantly understand value.

Warm

Friendly without being casual. "See you in 20!" not "Your order has been processed."

Action-Oriented

Every page drives toward a single CTA. No passive voice.

Trustworthy

Transparent pricing, no hidden fees, no commitment language front and center.
